

Health Management System

Sangam University

Patient Name:	Ram bahadur Chaudhary	Date:	May 02, 2026
Doctor:	Dr. Priya Sharma - General Physician	Report ID:	REP-3

Symptoms

Shortness of breath Wheezing (whistling sound while breathing) Coughing, especially at night or early morning Chest tightness or pain Difficulty in breathing during exercise Increased mucus production

Diagnosis

No diagnosis recorded.

Prescription & Advice

Avoid dust, smoke, and pollution Stay away from known allergens (pollen, pets, etc.) Use face mask in polluted areas Take regular prescribed medications Keep environment clean and dust-free Do breathing exercises (as advised by doctor) Avoid cold air exposure

Summary: The patient is suffering from asthma, a long-term respiratory condition that affects normal breathing due to airway inflammation. Symptoms may vary from mild to severe. With proper medication, avoidance of triggers, and lifestyle management, asthma can be effectively controlled. Regular medical follow-up is recommended.

Follow-up

Please visit again on: May 09, 2026

Dr. Priya Sharma

General Physician